Course Syllabus

ADD301, Drama – Production: Theatre Project

2018-2019

Ashley Visser

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Redeemer's theatre project course. This year we will be performing the play The Mouse that Roared adapted by Christopher Sergel. Throughout the rehearsal period we will be learning to work together to create a specific project through which we will attempt to understand better each other, ourselves, and God. This course will teach both the acting and singing side of putting on a musical as well as students will be introduced to the technical aspects of putting on a theatrical presentation.

EXPECTATIONS:

1. You will be in the rehearsal room for the beginning of practice BEFORE being specifically gathered there.
2. You will have your script (if you have one), notes, and a pencil at every rehearsal.
3. You will constantly be working hard to ensure that your responsibilities to the show are being completed to the best of your abilities.
4. You will treat the cast and your fellow tech crew members with respect and encourage them as they learn their parts and responsibilities.
5. You will use your talents in a way that is pleasing to the Lord with the intention of praising him through your time and effort.

UNITS

Unit 1: Rehearsing – this unit will look at the creation of the play The Mouse that Roared. It will take up the majority of the course time in which students will move from planning stages to the performance.

Unit 2: Reflecting – this unit will allow students to analyse decisions made by themselves, their peers, and their director.

Unit 3: Foundations – this unit will involve students researching how their specific technical field fits into the production as a whole.

*NOTE* these units will be run concurrently.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION

Evaluation Methods:

COURSE OVERALL EXPECTATIONS:

Creating and Presenting

Students apply the creative process to produce and present art works/productions using materials and elements and/or principles from more than one arts discipline. Students use technologies, tools, and techniques associated with these disciplines to create, modify, present, and promote integrated art works/productions for a variety of purposes.

Reflecting, Responding, and Analysing

In this strand, students use the critical analysis process to analyse and assess a variety of art works/productions. Students examine the function of the arts in society and analyse how the arts have affected their personal values and sense of identity, generating a deeper understanding of themselves and their culture. They explore arts-related careers and opportunities outside the classroom.

Foundations

In this strand, students develop their understanding of, and use proper terminology when referring to, elements, principles, and other key concepts related to various arts disciplines. They explore symbols and themes in the arts as well as influences on various arts disciplines. Students learn about responsible practices and ethical considerations associated with creating and experiencing different types of art works and apply these practices when creating, presenting, experiencing, and promoting art works/productions.
